PICKERING WINS CUP

Pickering, Winner in Class B, Defeats Maryville, Champion of Class A, in District Basketball Tournament—Will Go to State Tournament.

The Northwest Missouri Basketball championship was awarded to Pickering High School when they defeated Maryville High School in the grand championship flight Saturday night. By virtue of the win over the Class A champions, Pickering will represent Northwest Missouri in the state tournament at Springfield the last of this week. After the game Saturday night Dr. Fred Keller, in the absence of President Lamkin, presented the loving cups to the winners, Maryville of Class A, and Pickering, grand champion and class B winner. Dr. Keller impressed both teams with the obligation that they must carry by virtue of being champions.

The final game was the feature of the whole tournament, and it was not until the fourth quarter that Pickering clinched the title by tossing in three two pointers in succession, and Maryville, who had starred on the defensive up to this quarter, was unable to overcome the lead. The score by quarters was first quarter, 2-2; second quarter, 3-3; third quarter, 9-7; final 19-8.

The first half of the game was air tight, both teams scoring only three points each, but in the last quarter Maryville men opened up and gave all they had, scoring 20 points to Lafayette's 3.

The Messiah Will Be Event of Music Week

Artists from Lindsborg, Chorus Will Assist Local Singers in Presenting Handel's Masterpiece.

The college chorus, directed by Mr. Gardner will present on May 6, as the culminating event of Music Week, the "Messiah," Handel's supreme achievement as a composer. The chorus will be assisted by four notable artists, Mrs. Allan Taylor, soprano, Mrs. Raymond Havens, contralto, Mr. Ernest Daves, tenor, and Mr. David Groesch, bass, the first three of whom sang the "Messiah" with the famous Lindsborg chorus in Kansas City, at the dedication of the new American Royal Building, November 18, and 19, 1922. To hear the oratorio is an opportunity that no music lover can afford to overlook.

The "Messiah" was composed in twenty-three days in the summer of 1741, when Handel was fifty-six years old. The work immediately had an overwhelming success, was presented thirty-four times during Handel's life, and remains today the best known of all oratorios.

The "Messiah" is not a sermon but is, rather, a vast, inspired poem of human redemption. The theme is the foreshadowing of the advent, the sufferings, and the final triumph of the Christ. The libretto is made up of the literal text of the Bible and represents the development of the Christian plan of salvation.

The work is divided in three parts. The first part voices the longing of the world for the Messiah, and tells of His coming. The second describes the sufferings of the Messiah, the death, and the resurrection of Jesus. The closing chorus of the second part is the climax of the oratorio, the "Hallelujah Chorus." After listening to this, one can understand Handel's words: "I did think I saw all heaven before me, and the great God himself." The third part of the oratorio notes the effects of Christ's sacrifice upon the world and expresses the aspiration of religious faith. The final "Amen" chorus shows the free reign given by the composer to his intense religious enthusiasm, and presents a stupendous climax.

The "Messiah" stands alone as a majestic oratorio and no one hearing it can forget the powerful feeling that Handel has presented in song for posterity.

One who writes with authority on Oratorio has described the merits of the "Messiah" as follows: "Other oratorios may be compared one with another; the 'Messiah' stands alone a majestic monument to the composer and an imperishable record to the noblest sentiments of the human race."

Miss McQueen Assists in Music Department

Miss Esther McQueen of Kansas City began work March 11 in the piano department of the College Conservatory of Music to take the place of Miss Gladys Andrews who was injured some time ago.

Miss McQueen attended school at Hardin College and for the past three years has been instructor in the Littlefield-Dunning School of Music in Kansas City.

Miss Andrews is still confined in St. Francis Hospital from injuries received in a fall. A broken wrist and injury to her spine will make it impossible for her to resume her work for several weeks.

KITTENCATS HOLD RECORD OF FOUR YEARS WITHOUT A SINGLE DEFEAT

Played Twenty-eight Games and Made Score of 1094 Points to Opponents' 419—Hold Undisputed State Championship.

Four years without a defeat and the undisputed state basketball championship during this time is the remarkable record of the women's basketball team of the State Teachers College.

The team completed the 1925 season with a 43 to 17 win over the Central college team of Payette. This game brings the total number of victories up to twenty-eight without a defeat to mar the record.

The Kitten Cats team closed the 1925 season with eight wins. The scores for the Kitten Cats amounted to 358 points against the opponents' 195 points. The scores for the season follow:

Kitten Cats 51; Jolly Club St. Joseph 21.
Kitten Cats 30; Rock Port 23.
Kitten Cats 37; Palmer College 15.
Kitten Cats 38; Jolly Club, St. Joseph, 28.
Kitten Cats 57; Palmer College 38.
Kitten Cats 58; Missouri Wesleyan 27.
Kitten Cats 41; Missouri Wesleyan 26.
Kitten Cats 43; Cen. College Payette, 17.
Total—Kitten Cats 358; Opponents 195.

The team amassed 1,094 points to their opponents' 419 points in the twenty-eight games played during the four years which they have held the state championship. This makes an average score, per game, 38 to 14. Women's basketball teams in coeducational colleges has not been an old activity, and for that reason the Kitten Cats found it difficult to schedule many games.

White sweater coats, with green trimmings and the green "M" have been awarded to eight players. Their names with their home address, position, and period of service follow:

Miss Barnard Tells of Dean's Meeting

Salvation of Future Is Leadership Was the Conviction of Members of Convention—New Course Will Be Given Here.

Speaking of the meeting of the National Association of Deans of Women held recently in Cincinnati, Miss Barnard said:

"The field of the dean is comparatively new. In 1903, eighteen pioneer women met in Chicago and discussed their new field of work. They guided their girls well and obtained results which stimulated university and college presidents, as well as high school principals, to appoint more deans. Year by year the number has grown until now the members of the association number 784 and the meetings are attended by double that number. Besides the national association there are now 23 state organizations and New York and Chicago have city organizations of the deans of girls in their many large high schools. This Missouri state organization, at its last meeting went on record with the recommendation that, every high school in the state have a girls' counselor or adviser or dean by whichever name each desired to call that person. This means that the colleges and the university must provide the training needed by offering courses that will help prepare young women to occupy such positions in the high schools of the state. It is with this end in view that the college is going to offer this coming summer a course called 'The Advancement of Girls in High Schools.' Further announcement of this course will be made later.

"But to return to the national meeting. Some of the subjects discussed were changes in the curricula in colleges for women, improvement in educational and vocational guidance, character building, student government, student buildings, the demands of youth, the promotion of higher standards of scholarship through honor societies, student health, mental hygiene for college students, and the responsibility of college women in world movements.

"No one can attend such a meeting without thinking more highly of the work she is engaged in, without appreciating more fully the insight and the vision of the persons engaged in work with students all over the country, or without determining to put her best endeavor into improving conditions in her own situation. Inspiration and renewed courage comes both from individual discussion of common problems and from splendid addresses of men and women of power and achievement.

"No feeling of pessimism about civilization in general or about the younger generation of our day was abroad in the convention, but a widespread conviction that the salvation of the future lies in the matter of leadership. Many of the leaders of the future are now in our colleges and everything depends on the character of these leaders. What a challenge this presents to the colleges! Are we meeting that challenge?"

Sydney Abbott, who has been attending S. T. C. the past year, will spend the spring and summer in Lincoln, Nebraska, with his mother, who recently moved there. He plans to attend Nebraska University next September.

At Warrensburg and Peru, S. T. C. has the negative side of the question, at Cape Girardeau, the affirmative.

Miss Laura Schmitz of Chillicothe has the honor of being the first woman member of the board of regents of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College. Her appointment to the board was recently confirmed by the State Senate. Miss Schmitz takes the place of Charles E. Ward, Plattsburg, who has become a member of the board of curators of the University of Missouri. The Senate also confirmed the appointment of True D. Parr, Hamilton, and Homer Feurt, Gallatin, as members of the board of regents. Mr. Parr has served in this capacity for several years, his term expiring January 1. Mr. Feurt has been connected with the board for a shorter time, having been appointed by Ex-Governor Hyde to take the place of J. P. Robertson, Grant City, who resigned.

Since her graduation, Miss Schmitz has devoted her time chiefly to journalistic work and writing. She has done editorial work on both the Chillicothe and the Carrollton daily newspapers. At present she is secretary-treasurer of the Missouri's Writers' Guild, Women of Northwest Missouri who have been interested in having a representative on the board of regents are much gratified in the appointment of Miss Schmitz.

LIFE AT SORBONNE

Men Students Frown Upon Usurpation of their Places, by Fair Co-ed; French Student is More Balanced Than before War.

The University of Paris is composed of five Faculties of Learning. The Sorbonne, the oldest of all and—in a certain sense—the most famous, was founded by Robert of Sorbon, chaplain and confessor of Louis IX. He came to Paris to obtain a Doctor's Degree and with the intention of founding an institution which could be called a college; consequently the college of Sorbon was established, as a place for study and a home for poor students.

The revolution of 1789 opened the way for a great work of reorganization. The National Assembly founded the Museum of Natural History, the Polytechnic School, and l'Institut de la France. The consul added to the reorganization of the Law School, but above all was the attempt by the first Empire toward a unified spirit in college life. Reorganization of the faculties came to be a patriotic duty in the Second, and in the Third and last Empire new schools were created; the professorships increased, larger buildings constructed, libraries enlarged and the schedules of the courses modernized.

The aim of the University is to educate specialists as well as to promote the general education of those who wish to attain high degree of learning. The five faculties, the Law School, the School of Chemistry, the School of Science, the Academic School and the School of Medicine, are under the direction of the University Council, at the head of which is the Minister of Public Instruction and the Beaux Arts. The Assembly is chosen from the various faculties, each being an independent unit and retaining its own form of administration.

Since the expenses of the University are met by National Budget, certain free courses are offered to both French and foreigners. The diplomas conferred by the various faculties vary in importance and nature. A large part of the examinations are not written. A student, after due preparation, presents himself before an examining board which puts him through a rapid fire of questions.

The Paris student is practically free from restraint, yet, he is the most studious of men in all the French Universities. Studying is done during the day and the evenings left free for recreation. The cafe is a popular attraction not as a place to drink, but to talk and smoke. In certain of these cafes like the Closier des Lilies, it is said, have occurred the first acclamations of some poet, perhaps like Paul Fort, who was later elected Prince of Poets. Many of the serious minded frequent the small restaurants to get warm, to write, and to read the daily newspapers, this form of recreation being a little less expensive than the theatre. While it is true that students may enter the Chope Latine at midnight or one o'clock in the morning to eat a heaping plateful of mussels and rice or stop in at the special billiard room of the Taverne du Pantheon for a game of billiards, and as consequence be known as "night-owls," the vast majority of French students are more orderly than foreigners would imagine.

The Etudiants are admitted to all departments of the University, share equally with the men in privileges and receive the same diplomas. The men students, however, look with irony upon these young girls who invade their lecture halls, who take possession of their armchairs in the library and who fill the examination rooms.

The organization, known as the General Association of Students, and classes as an association of public welfare, takes the place of secret societies in French colleges. The Association looks after the material needs of the students and contributes to the fund maintained for that purpose. It is especially useful in extending a "welcome hand" to strangers.

Since the war, sports have become more prominent among the students. Although athletics are still unorganized, games such as football, hockey, rowing, tennis and golf are played. Football, the typical French game is not excluded.

On the whole, the French student is more balanced in his attitude than formerly; he is patriotic and has a desire to use his influence for the welfare of his country and the better of his countrymen.

AM I THE BIGGEST FOOL?
 Years ago I knew a boy who enrolled for Latin in high school. He was a bright boy, but he failed in Latin. He decided he would drop the subject and graduate without Latin.

After he had decided against the subject he kept thinking about it. Suddenly, one night, the thought came to him,
 "Why can't I get Latin? Am I the biggest fool in the class? The biggest fool in school?" The thought started with him, "Am I the biggest fool?"

He took stock of his mental ability and decided he was not a fool. The thought, however, kept rankling "If I'm not the biggest fool in the class,
 why can't I get Latin?"

That boy made a resolution. At the first opportunity he took again the course in which he had failed. He made good. Today, that man is the head of a Latin department in a big university.
 Suppose he had been willing to be the "biggest fool in the class!"

Sixteen students of the college are doing practice teaching in the various departments of the college. Following is a list of those doing practice teaching and the subject they are teaching:
 Veronica Berg, Biology I; Lucille

 while at her home in Grant City during March 13, where she underwent an oper-

St. Pat's Carnival To Be Jolly Affair

College Organizations To Assist In Annual Event for Benefit of Year-Book of Student Body.

The St. Patrick's Carnival will be held by the Tower Staff, Tuesday night at the College building. The Tower Staff has done its utmost to make this year's carnival a bigger and better event than ever before. As in previous years, the Tower Staff will be assisted by the different organizations and classes of the school, each organization or class having charge of some show or concession.

A new form of money will be introduced this year. This will be paper bills in the shape of a shamrock, one thousand shamrocks being equivalent to five cents. Upon entering the building every person will be required to exchange twenty-five cents for twenty-five thousand shamrocks.

The proceeds of the carnival this year will be divided on a ratio of seventy to thirty; that is, seventy percent to the Tower Staff and thirty percent to the various organizations and clubs of the school.

In the past years some people have not attended the carnival because of the price of admission, but this has been provided for this year through the generosity of the carnival committees. In this edition of the Green and White there will be a small coupon that will be equivalent to one hundred shamrocks if cut out and presented at the "bank."

Following is a list of the shows and concessions:

1. Free Band Concert at seven thirty.

IF SHOES COULD TALK

There would be many a pair
 at the College and all over Nod-away County who would be shouting for joy at the new lease of life they had obtained at Shanks. And in a voice louder than the squeak of any new one they would tell you the economy they meant to their owners. Don't jilt your old shoes who have been so nice and easy to your feet—let them drink at our fountain of youth.

L. H. Shanks
 With Reavis Shoe Co.
 "Look at your shoes and think of Shanks."

2. "The Pollies" direct from New York, guaranteed to be bigger and better than ever before. This is the main show and will take place in the auditorium. The price of admission to this will be fifteen cents. The Eureka Literary Society will have charge of this show.

3. Cave Man show in Room 126 by the Excelsors.

4. "Mellor Drummer" in Room 101,
 by the Y. W. C. A.

5. Skidmore Special, in Room 224,
 by the girls of Residence Hall.

6. "House of Mystery" in Room
 125 by the high school freshmen.

7. Baby Show, Room 225 by high school group.

8. Athletic show, in west gymnasium by the "M" Club.

There will be modern dancing in the east gymnasium beginning at nine thirty. A good orchestra has been secured to furnish the music. In addition to the modern dance there will be an "Old Fashioned" dance in the library. Waltzes and square dances have been lacking in past carnivals, but it is the aim of the carnival committee to make them as popular as the modern dances. Every person will be required to pay one thousand shamrocks upon entering the dance; the first dance will be free but each dance after that will cost one thousand shamrocks. In both dance halls there will be refreshment booths. In addition there will be confetti, caps, and everything that goes to make up a good carnival dance.

In order to choose the best dancers
 there will be a dancing contest.

During the carnival the "Carnival Shiek" will be elected; this is an honor that is secretly coveted by every member of the "Valner Sex."

A check stand will be located on the first floor for those who came to use it.
 Every student is urged to attend.

Enrollment Is Good

The spring term has begun. The winter quarter, the longest one in the history of S. T. C. ended officially at 4:20
 P. M., Thursday, March 5, and now after a four day's vacation everything is back in the old order with the exception of the individual changes in courses, some students gone, a sprinkling of new students here, and every one talking of track instead of basket-ball.

The enrollment to date is 539. The indications are that approximately the same number will be enrolled as last spring. At that time the enrollment on the first day was 494. By the end of the quarter, including those in for the short course, it had reached 719, of whom 82 were in the Conservatory of Music.

A large number are expected to attend the short course which begins April 27. This short course is given in order that teachers having but eight months of school may make five hours credit before the opening of the regular summer session. Last spring 195 were enrolled for this course.

Eight Letter-Men Will Start Season

Bearcats Lose Only One Man Through Graduation—Summary of 1925 Games.

Eight letter-men will be back for the 1926 basket ball season at S. T. C. and all are eligible for competition. These men are Peoples, Aldrich, Pierpoint, Crane, forwards; Blomfield center; and Ellis, Joy, Smith, guards. Culp, a member of the first string of ten men, graduates; he is the only man lost to the Bearcats. Houston will also be on deck for competition.

Coach Lawrence would not predict a championship team with the best material in the world; and even though he had the cream of the earth this year, there are always elements of luck and injury that enter into success each year and this was what happened in 1925.

Eight of the following games were conference titles, three of which the Bearcats won, and five of which they lost only after hard battles.

Results of games:
Bearcats 19; Hillyards 44.
Bearcats 30; Mo. Wesleyan 11.
Bearcats 8; Kirksville 30.
Bearcats 26; Kirksville 19.
Bearcats 27; Mo. Wesleyan 15.

Bearcats 27; Tarkio 19.
Bearcats 31; Springfield 33.
Bearcats 26; Warrensburg 35.
Bearcats 28; Park College 17.
Bearcats 49; Park College 23.

Total, Bearcats 470; Opponents 447. The scoring power of the Bearcats was on par with any team of its caliber. The average points were 27.11-17.

Peoples, who played in seventeen games this year, was high point man of the Bearcat team, and Blomfield came second. The number of points scored by each man were:

Peoples, total 199; 82 field goals,

Private Lessons in Dramatics

The Northwest Missouri State Teachers College announces that arrangements have been made to offer private instruction to those interested in dramatics and public reading. The purpose in offering private work is to give those interested in dramatics a chance to do more intensive work under direct supervision of an instructor.

This instruction is designed to develop personality, poise and power of expression of the individual by training in voice, vocal expression, pantomime and dramatic thinking. The course begins with fundamental exercises and short readings and progresses until larger and more difficult readings are studied.

The tuition will be the same as private lessons in the Conservatory of Music. One lesson per week for one quarter is $12.50; two lessons per week for one quarter is $25.00. The same credit system as in the Conservatory will prevail.

These private lessons will be given by Miss Laveta McClanahan of the College faculty. Those interested in this work should see Miss McClanahan or telephone the College.

The Stroller

By ????

Enrollment day, the Stroller overheard a certain student say to another, "Isn't it strange how the high school graduates of today leave a good college in their own home town for the one farther away?" The following day, the Stroller was sitting in the library and noticed a group of freshmen girls crowded around a certain table. He was curious like all reporters so he soon discovered that they were Lucille Gaugh, Audrey Stival, Ruth Hughes, Marie Woods, Stella Pettigrew, Verlen James and Mary Elizabeth Jones, mid-term graduates of Maryville High School. The Stroller also found that Marvin Westfall, Felix Brown, John Kurtz, John Sewell and Harold Miller, members of the same class, are proud of dear old S. T. C. and mean to allow her to assist the shaping of their destinies.

The Stroller wanted to go to the student of the first day, whom he had overheard, and tell him about Maryville but probably it is better that he should read it in the Courier.

What fad will be next, the Stroller is forced to ask. First it was hose-and-a-half for the girls, then it was red neckties for the men, now it's cowboy garb for the men. Wonder what will blow in next?

Ethel Lyle says she doesn't need to take Household Decoration as she is going to be a school teacher. The Stroller hears that John Allan DeMotte is taking Home Ec. What does that signify, she wonders.

Down at the cafeteria the Stroller, who happened to be standing behind one of the teachers heard her say, "I always expect flowers a couple of weeks before examinations." That put a new idea into the Stroller's head—the first one he has had this quarter. He is going to save up his pennies for flowers, enough to buy three S's and an E.

Community School Bill Fails.

The Community School Bill was rejected by the State Legislature by a vote of 72-53. Legislative members from the rural districts favored the bill, while the opposition came from the city representatives. All members from St. Louis, and all but two from Kansas City voted against it.

Mr. Phillips was a member of the Committee that framed the bill. It was in keeping with State Superintendent Lee's constructive educational policies for Missouri schools.

"M" Club Has Regular Dinner.

The "M" Club held its first regular dinner and meeting of this quarter, at Residence Hall, Tuesday, March 10.

About thirty five members were present. Vice-President, Sam England presided in the absence of Hugh "Red" Graham. Crane, Smith, and Pierpoint, new additions to the club, while not initiated, were called upon for talks. Last quarter's officers were re-elected for both the spring and summer quarters. Plans for the various high-school contests were discussed.

The next meeting will be held March 24.

Miss Dykes entertained at dinner Thursday evening, at the Linville Hotel, Miss Charlotte Wright of St. Joseph. Miss Wright is in the employ of the New York Life Insurance Company.

Dr. James at Assembly.

Dr. C. C. James of the M. E. Church, spoke at assembly March 11, and showed that the door of opportunity was open to those who fight their way to the goal, by using the life of the late Bishop Quayle as an illustration. "A man's gift maketh room for him, and William Alfred Quayle's gift made room for him," said Dr. James.

Following the announcements Rafael Emmanuel, a native of Chalden, gave an interesting talk which served as an introduction to his lecture at 4:20 on the real life of Chalden.

Track Suits Have Been Issued

The following men reported for track practice Wednesday, March 11, and were issued training suits: D. Davenport, Paul Robey, Reed Holt, Russel Allan, Mark Davis, W. R. Culp, Frank Crane, Lloyd Hollar, O. Wakely, George Smith, John Smith, Gordon Ranch, K. Caldwell, C. Persinger, V. Goslee, Fred Street, N. Hartman, D. Snyder, Glen Power, D. Ruelofson, and Gordon Joy. There are a few men who intend to try for the track team who have not yet reported.

Seniors Have Party.

The stormy weather the evening of February 28, did not prevent the seniors from enjoying a party in the college library.

Games and dancing were amusements during the evening. Vari-colored sweet peas were given as favors and a corsage of them was awarded to Mary Riggs for high score.

Guests of the seniors at the party were Miss Dykes and Miss Terhune.

The first hour typewriting class, composed of some thirty beginners, have been carrying on a very interesting experiment, typewriting to music. They are using twelve Victrola records, especially prepared for accompaniment to text book instruction in typewriting. The advantage of this experiment is an increase in speed and also a development of enthusiasm in the work.

TRENTON.

The Coffey-Miller Players have been secured for the presentation of two plays, March 20: "The Taming of the Shrew" and "The Rivals."

Trenton High School will be represented by Katherine Hulen in the oratorical contest with other high schools of Northwest Missouri at St. Joseph, March 16. The winner will go to Kansas City for a zone elimination contest and the winner from that contest will compete for national honors in Washington.

CORNING.

The high school at Corning has organized Girl Reserves and Girl Scouts. They have made plans for a rest room to be equipped in the school.

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS.

The athletics department of the city school will hold a field and track meet in May. A gala day is being planned.

Miss Arlene Swartz, senior class sponsor, directed the Indoor Chautauqua that was given March 5 by the senior class.

The Junior class will present "Peppercorn" as their class play.

GUILFORD.

The girls' team of Guilford High School is scheduled to enter the Basket Ball tournament at the College, March 20 and 21. Out of 20 scheduled games they have lost but two. Marguerite Curant, guard, was placed on the Mystical All-Star County team in the fall tournament.

MARYVILLE.

Edwyna Forsyth will represent Maryville High School in the district contest of the national oratorical contest sponsored by various newspapers of the country, including the Kansas City Star. Ralph Graves was chosen as alternate.

The following contestants have been chosen to represent Maryville High School in the music contests to be held at the State Teachers College, April: Piano solo, Mildred Tefow; violin solo, Harold Braun; cornet solo, Paul Neal. Second places were won in preliminary contests by Evelyn Evans, Hermann Miller, and Theodore Breedlove, respectively.

Easter Vacation Begins Day Earlier.

The Easter vacation of the college will begin on Wednesday, April 8, at 4:20 P. M., instead of Thursday, April 9, as stated in the catalog. This change has been made because of the fact that the college is to be host to the State Federation of Women's Clubs on April 8 and 9, and Residence Hall will be used at that time for the accommodation of the visiting ladies.

College work will be resumed on Tuesday morning, April 14, at eight o'clock, when all students will be expected to report for classes.

A special meeting of all college women was held in the auditorium Friday afternoon from 2:30 until 3:20. Denn Barnard gave a short talk, after which the following program was given: A group of college songs led by Mabel Rathes; a film on "Health Preservation"; two solos, "The Old Road" and "Sylvia" by Christine Goff accompanied by Ruth Houchens; and two piano solos, "Spanish Dance," and "Mendelssohn's Prelude" by Ruth Houchens.

Jeannie Blacklock visited her parents near King City during the vacation.
